GET ON: A Guide to Riding Motorcycles for Women Who Think Too Much Janet Green
Have you ever watched a woman riding her own motorcycle and thought, "I wonder if I could do that?" Has the question been nagging you for awhile, to the point where you really think you want to ride, but you don't know where to start or what questions to ask? If so, read "Get On: A Guide to Riding Motorcycles for Women Who Think Too Much." This is a book for women who want to learn as much as they can before they take the plunge in learning to ride. It's for women who take risks - calculated ones!

"Get On" is a sassy, no-B.S., sometimes humorous but always informative look at what it takes to be a woman who rides: what you need to get started, what kind of bikes you should be considering, what gear you need, what is the best way to learn, and strategies for staying safe.

Janet H. Green (aka Corn Dog) is a lifelong writer and a 12-year-veteran biker who has been blogging about her motorcycle adventures since 2004. If you want to ride, "Get On" with Corn Dog and do it!
