Es un hecho que existen escolares que sobreviven en los gimnasios y que son relegados a un segundo plano, cuando no despreciados por sus compañeros, por su falta de competencia para moverse de manera coordinada en los juegos y en los deportes. Son escolares que no sienten la excitación de saltar por encima de un cajón de plinto, de conseguir un tanto, de aprender habilidades gimnásticas, de ser seleccionado de los primeros en los recreos a la hora de jugar o de formar parte de los equipos de deportivos de la clase. Nos preocupa que existan escolares que no hayan desarrollado adecuadamente su competencia motriz, y que no son capaces de interactuar de forma eficaz y eficiente en las clases y/o en su vida cotidiana. No es que pensemos que esto de por sí sea una catástrofe que impida que un niño o niña pueda recibir los beneficios de la educación, pero sí es cierto que las dificultades de movimiento puede limitarlas, y que merecen ser tratadas como tales, como un problema a solucionar para poder dotarles del mayor número posible de experiencias enriquecedoras.
