Take Your Homeschooling to a New Level!

Gifted Strategies That Help Every Homeschooler!

When my first son was born and my midwife handed him to me, she gave me the best and only advice I needed for being a parent, “Know your child and trust yourself.”

That advice continued to be true throughout our child-rearing days, even when we were faced with the challenges of raising gifted children. In addition to being a huge blessing, gifted children are also a challenge!

>>> What Are Gifted Children Like?

- They learn more
- They learn faster
- They learn at an earlier age
- They remember more
- They understand abstract concepts earlier
- They have multiple passions and interests
- They can do multiple things at once—and do them well

As a parent, you have what it takes to teach your gifted children, because you are the love giver and not just a care giver. You are the person chosen and created for this job, just in the same way your child was chosen and created for your family.

>>> Here's Why You Need This Book:

This book covers eight different strategies for teaching gifted students, including concepts like acceleration, compacting, enriching, and specialization. Homeschooling gifted children also brings questions about when to graduate them, whether to utilize community college, and whether Ivy League schools would be appropriate. While the strategies in this book were developed for gifted children, they will work for every child and help every family get the most out of their homeschool!

“Gifted Education Strategies,” is part of The HomeScholar’s Coffee Break Books series. Designed especially for parents who don’t want to spend hours reading a 400-page book on homeschooling high school, this series combines Lee’s practical and friendly approach with detailed, but easy-to-digest information, perfect to read over a cup of coffee at your favorite coffee shop!

Never overwhelming, always accessible and manageable, each book in the series will give parents the tools they need to tackle the tasks of homeschooling high school, one warm sip at a time.
